Applications

- Concrete rings are used with poured deck floor construction
- These boxes are installed on wooden or steel concrete forms. After the forms are removed, the box is flush with finished concrete surface
- Cover plate must be ordered separately
- RACO #284 is designed for ceiling fan support

Product Features

- Flat sides provide excellent contact for locknuts
- External ears are used to nail the ring to the wood form
- Ears on inside of box are designed to accommodate fixture or ceiling fan
- Waxed fixture ears prevent concrete from interfering with the threads
- Variety of cover plates are available
- Cover plate must be ordered separately with all (except 280 which includes 891 cover)
